Details

This Gift Basket is one of our longest running Birthday Gifts and has been selling successfully for more than a decade. This qualifies it for entry to our Favourites Range and ensures that every year, rather than replacing it or changing a popular formula, we simply modernise and update the product. Many baskets fail to see more than two or three seasons as human tastes evolve or change and as a Gift Basket Company, we are tasked to be part of that change. However the counter-balance to that rule is that we must just as much follow the needs of our customers and this is what we strive to achieve through the establishment of ranges such as "Favourites" This Birthday Favourites gift has as its core element a Birthday Cake, which is exquisitely decorated above and beyond what may be expected. It is sold as a general gift without age being denoted making it suitable for all those Birthdays, which don't get the attention they still deserve. If age is just a number, then why are there so many 40th gift cards, but none for random 40 somethings for instance. This gift basket solves the issue by elegantly having a Happy Birthday message without any numerology. The contents of Chocolates, Waffles and Crisps reflect a simple desire for a simple set of contents wedded to a colourful gift theme of fresh fruit. That makes this gift basket of timeless popular appeal and an excellent option to send as a Birthday Gift to urban addresses in the UK.
