Details

Pregnancy is the one time in a woman's life when resting and pampering is completely guilt free. We've created a gorgeous gift hamper that allows an expectant mum to do just that. And yes ok we'll admit it, we closed our eyes and imagined all the items we would have loved to have received when we were expecting mums ourselves. The star of this basket is the bottle of Natalia Prenatal Bath Soak, which is especially formulated for bathing during pregnancy, using special blends of essential oils to ease muscular tension, soothe anxiety and help a soon-to-be-mama connect with her growing baby. She can take some time out from her busy life to sink into an aromatic bath of organic British calendula, hand harvested aloe vera and the synergistic blend of French lavender, uplifting vetiver and Madagascan ylang ylang essential oils. She'll also discover a lightly scented indulgent body moisture lotion by Scottish Fine Soaps, an energising aromatherapy candle jar, a soothing lavender body wrap to help with pains and cramps, a handmade bath melt, and an obligatory box of yummy chocolates.
